

At, in, on – Preposiciones de tiempo

- At se utiliza con las horas, algunos periodos festivos y otras expresiones:

at half past six.

at the weekend / at weekends

at night

at three o'clock

at Easter

at the end of (June...)

at midday

at Christmas

at the beginning of ...

at midnight

at the moment

at present

- In acompaña a las partes del día (excepto night), meses, estaciones, años y siglos:

in the morning

in summer/spring....

in 5 minutes/one hour

in the afternoon

in July/May.....

in the evening

in 1965

in the 21st century

- On precede a los días de la semana y fechas concretas:

on Monday/Tuesday....

on Saturday night

on 20th May

on Wednesday afternoon

on Christmas Day

on Monday morning

on New Year's Eve

on Thursday evening

on St. Patrick's Day

- Cuando la expresión de tiempo va precedida de last, next o every, no se usa ninguna preposición:

Last week I went to the cinema

I'll see you next Monday.

I visit him every Sunday.